The KBOR Retirement Program details

Eligibility

KBOR Mandatory Retirement Plan	Benefits-eligible faculty and unclassified professional staff at the Kansas Board of Regents Office or at a state university are required to participate in the KBOR Mandatory Retirement Plan after completing one year of service. New employees may, under certain circumstances, be qualified to participate immediately.
KBOR Voluntary Retirement Plan	Benefits-eligible employees can begin making voluntary contributions immediately upon employment.

Enrollment

Enrollment in the KBOR Mandatory Retirement Plan is required by completing the Investment Agreement available through your HR/Benefits Office. If enrollment is not completed, employees will be defaulted into an age-appropriate lifecycle fund with TIAA.

Although eligibility is immediate, enrollment in the KBOR Voluntary Retirement Plan is not automatic: You must complete the Investment Agreement available through your HR/Benefits Office. Participating in the Voluntary Retirement Plan offers the opportunity to set aside additional pretax or Roth savings to help you pursue your goals and income needs in retirement. The sooner you start, the more time your money has to potentially grow through the power of compounding interest.

Contributions

KBOR Mandatory Retirement Plan. As a participant in this defined contribution plan, you contribute 5.5% of your annual gross salary through pretax contributions. Your employer also contributes 8.5% of your annual gross salary. These amounts are remitted each pay period to the plan provider you select, not to exceed the annual IRS allowable limits.

KBOR Voluntary Retirement Plan. Whether you are a participant in KPERS or the KBOR Mandatory Retirement Plan, you can systematically invest pretax or Roth dollars. These amounts are remitted each pay period to the plan provider you select, not to exceed the annual IRS allowable limits.

Loans and hardship withdrawals

The primary purpose of the KBOR Retirement Program is to help you save for—and plan for income in—retirement. However, as situations arise, it may be necessary for you to take a loan or hardship withdrawal from your retirement plan. Loans and hardship withdrawals are only available through the Voluntary Plan. Although loans are not advised, the loan is funded from your eligible accumulations in the Voluntary Retirement Plan and you may borrow up to 50% of your vested balance, not to exceed $50,000. A loan origination fee may be assessed by the plan provider. You'll want to take this fee into account when deciding how much to borrow. Please contact your plan provider before requesting a loan or hardship withdrawal.

Expense charges

KBOR works hard to keep participant fees and expenses low

Each plan provider's investment options charge different fees for administration and management. These expenses are deducted from your account balance. Prior to selecting your plan provider, be sure to request and carefully review information regarding investment fees from the plan providers with which you invest.

Enrolling in the KBOR Voluntary Retirement Plan

Benefits-eligible KBOR employees are immediately eligible for the KBOR Voluntary Retirement Plan as part of your overall benefits package. Important decisions come with this eligibility, such as selecting your retirement plan provider. To get started, complete the Investment Agreement which can be obtained by contacting your HR/Benefits Office. You are free to change or stop your contribution amount at any time by submitting a new Investment Agreement.

Creating your retirement investment strategy

Before selecting which accounts or funds to invest in, be sure to compare the investment offerings of the KBOR Retirement Program's two plan providers. On the following pages, we'll describe each plan provider's investment philosophy, and how you can contact the plan providers to learn more about their options or to set up a one-on-one session.

The KBOR Retirement Program investment options

What should I consider when building my own portfolio?

Your investment strategy should be based on your retirement goals, the number of years until you retire, your financial circumstances, and your tolerance for investment risk. It is important that you regularly review your investment choices and take advantage of investment advice available to you through the plan providers online, by phone or during a one-on-one consultation.

You may invest your retirement contributions among a variety of investment options offered by or through either of the companies designated as plan providers for the Plan. These companies have been selected by the Board of Regents to give you flexibility in your retirement planning. Your employer will remit your funds to your selected plan provider with each payroll deduction. Once each calendar year, you can elect to have future contributions deposited with the other plan provider. Subject to the plan providers' policies, accumulated funds may be transferred between the plan providers at any time. For more information, visit kansasregents.org/about/regents_retirement_plans.

Lifecycle or target-date funds

Lifecycle or target-date funds are professionally managed mutual funds designed for investors who want a simple yet diversified approach to investing. With these funds, you select the fund that's closest to your expected retirement date. The fund managers then adjust the fund's underlying investments from more aggressive to more conservative as the target retirement date approaches. You may want to consider this option if you prefer a "hands free" approach to investing and want to leave the portfolio allocation decisions to the fund's professional management team.

Core investment options

The funds in this tier represent an array of investment choices, including stocks, bonds and short-term investments, for investors with varying risk tolerances. You may want to consider selecting these options if you are comfortable diversifying your investments on your own or with the assistance of an advisor with the plan provider and online asset allocation tools.
